The system enables navigation of the visually impaired by a remote operator who observes images transmitted form the blind user terminal and uses short spoken commands to instruct him on the safe path.

Read the report >>